Palm Sunday

"I tell you, Peter, before the cock crows this day, you will deny three times that you know me." (Luke 22:34)

How many times have you heard someone make a disparaging comment about Jesus or our Catholic faith? How did you react? Do you remain quiet not to cause a disturbance? Or, do you remain quiet because you believe people will think negatively about you? Pray for the courage to speak up and enter into a respectful dialogue when the opportunity arises.

NOTE: The Parish Office will be closed on Easter Monday, April 22.

The Care for Sacred Linens Ministry

Do you love to do laundry? If so, we would love for you to help take care of sacred linens at IHM!

Training is provided on how to care for these special linens that contain the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. This ministry is made up of team members who, behind the scenes in their own homes, reverently launder and care for the purificators and corporals used on the altar at Mass, on a rotating schedule.

If interested, please contact Kim Elkins 317-257-2266 or kelkins@ihmindy.org

Committees Forming for Changing Lives Forever Program

Juanita had always dreamed of finishing her high school degree. She felt she was getting too old. After participating in the Changing Lives Program last fall she has enrolled in classes and has taken the placement tests to begin her schooling.

You can help someone like Juanita. Join us Wednesday, May 8th at 7:00 pm as we plan for our third Changing Lives Forever Program. Committees are forming to work on marketing, recruiting participants and mentors, scheduling meals, coordinating mentors, facilitating program sessions, planning quarterly meetings for graduates and forming prayer partners.

Your new ideas will be helpful as the program continues to grow. Please come and discover how you can help with this important program.

The meeting will take place in the IHM basement Suyapa room. Contact Diane Powers at 317- 698-5679 with questions.

Youth Homelessness in Indianapolis

Recently a new report was released that paints a disturbing picture of homelessness for people aged 25 and under in Indianapolis, as reported in the Indy Star April 7, 2019 edition. Data from the Coalition for Homelessness Intervention and Prevention (CHIP) revealed that young people experiencing homelessness are disproportionately African American and that nearly half reported having a serious mental illness.

The Youth & Young Adult Point-In-Time Count was conducted on Nov. 7, 2018, and gives a snapshot of the city's unsheltered population age 25 and younger. Details of the report can be found at <https://www.indycoc.org/youth-young-adult-point-in-time>. Outreach teams found 183 youths and young adults were experiencing homelessness at that particular time, an increase of about 50% from the previous study in 2017 (though the increase is largely due to a change in methodology).

An analysis of the results shows:

- A majority of the youth counted (65 percent) were African American, while 24 percent were Caucasian.
- More than half were male, 41 percent were female and 6 percent were transgender or gender-non-conforming.
- Nearly 90 percent of those counted were sheltered in emergency facilities, transitional housing or safe havens.
- Forty-six percent reported having a serious mental illness and 24 percent reported having some form of disability.
- Nearly half were unemployed, and 61 percent lacked a high school diploma.

According to CHIP's Executive Director Chelsea Haring-Cozzi, research has shown that homeless youth are at a higher risk for abuse, sexual exploitation, violence, substance abuse and various health issues, including anxiety, depression and suicide. Young adults are also more likely to put themselves at risk or in dangerous situations to find housing, which increases the likelihood of trauma.

Indianapolis does have a plan to address homelessness among youth and young adults, and a new shelter facility specifically to aid LGBTQ young adults will open soon. But the roots of this problem reach back into broader issues of fair housing, mental health care, disabilities, and other structural barriers.

To learn more about this issue go to the CHIP website at <https://www.chipindy.org>.

IHM Garden Project

Can you smell spring in the air? With warmer temperatures around the corner, it's time to start thinking about the IHM Garden. The garden is such a wonderful part of the overall umbrella of outreach here at IHM. For the last few years, the vegetables that are grown are donated to The Boulevard Place Food Pantry (an affiliate of St. Vincent de Paul) at 46th and Boulevard.

The IHM Garden Project takes place right here on the IHM campus. Vegetables are grown in the Mary Garden on the West side and in beds behind Father Bob's house. The garden is planted in May and tapers off in September.

Our continued thanks to John Platt for this role in supporting this outreach. John is a parishioner and owner of Perennials Plus in Westfield. He has been a devoted supporter of the IHM garden. He generously donates plants and seedlings to the garden each season. We are looking for someone to take over the leadership for this outreach project.

If you are interested in taking on this project, please reach out to Sheila Schneider at 317-281-5215 or sheila.schneider14@yahoo.com.
