"Not as man sees does God see, because man sees the appearance but the Lord looks into the heart." (1 Samuel 16:7)

How often do we invest our time, talent, and treasure in creating an appearance that does not matter at all to God? We strive to impress with our clothing, home, career, possessions, car, and other marks of distinction. But none of these illusions of greatness will impress God. Instead, He will look into our hearts to see how much we loved Him, how much we loved others and how we showed that love by the way we used our time, talent, and treasure here on earth. *

Anointing of the Sick - POSTPONED

In observance of the World Day of the Sick, Immaculate Heart of Mary will offer the Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick during Masses on March 28 & 29. The anointing of the sick conveys several graces and imparts gifts of strengthening in the Holy Spirit against anxiety, discouragement, and temptation, and conveys peace and fortitude (CCC 1520). These graces flow from the atoning death of Jesus Christ, for “this was to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet Isaiah, ‘He took our infirmities and bore our diseases’” (Matt. 8:17). All who are sick, elderly, facing surgery, or seeking the gift of God’s healing are welcome to participate. The whole parish is invited to join in prayer for those who are sick and for their caregivers.

CANCELLED - J.O.Y. Club Luncheon

Matt and Nikki recently returned home after traveling the world full-time for 27 months to 35 countries. After saving their money and putting a pause on their professions, they visited a bucket list of locations. ## Outreach Corner

A Willingness to Change

School on Wheels knows what it's doing. After all, it's been steadily growing for nearly 20 years, helping children affected by homelessness to perform better in school. Starting with two staffers and a handful of volunteers, it now deploys more than 400 volunteers to 16 partner sites throughout Indianapolis to provide educational support to nearly 400 children. Sally Millman of IHM is one of the founders.

But School on Wheels doesn't measure success by the number of kids it serves or the number of sites where it offers services. It looks at factors such as classroom performance, parental engagement and school attendance – factors that also reveal a record of meaningful success.

What is most impressive about School on Wheels' success is that it doesn't prevent the School on Wheels team from critically assessing their work and looking for ways to improve. When they did that recently, they identified some new opportunities. Although the organization was founded on one-on-one tutoring for children in homeless shelters, studies show that children continue to struggle even after families find stable housing, especially if a return to stable housing resulted in a change in schools.

So School on Wheels pivoted, adding school-based services that help kids after they emerge from homelessness, and developing services in support of parents and providing guidance around school choice, which reduces the need for children to change schools every time they change addresses. The result? More success for children and families.

School on Wheels is an inspiring example of success but remaining open to change. They are focused on transformational outcomes rather than programs and activities. They pursue innovation and try the untried, because that's what it takes to make a difference. And they attack a root cause of poverty – a lack of educational attainment – rather than only addressing an immediate need.

School on Wheels is part of the solution, not because it came up with the perfect program or approach when it was launched two decades ago, but because it continues to seek the solution that will have the greatest impact over the long term.
