1. May we come to know more deeply the mind and heart of Christ, who became a humble servant even though he was God...
2. If we would be disciples, then as servants we must be known; placing the needs of others before our very own...
3. May we follow the Lord's example and wash each other's feet, through gracious acts of kindness and care for those in need...
4. May compassion fill our spirits, as we listen, as we speak. May the justice of God direct us to the wounded and the weak...
5. May the Spirit of God be with us, as our helper and our guide. May the light of courage lead us; may God's strength in us abide. (c 2019 Carey Landry)
